1 There's no need to search the earth for a lantern like the one hanging in the China Gallery at Alnwick Castle (page 190); Jamb's 'Globe' is a close match. It costs from £2,530. Ring 020 7730 2122, or visit jamblimited.com.

2 Need to reproduce historic textiles like those at Alnwick Castle (page 182)? Head to Humphries Weaving Co, which has it all sewn up. Shown here are fabrics made for the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York (top), and Attingham Park. Commissions from £56 per m. Ring 01787 466670, or visit humphriesweaving.co.uk.

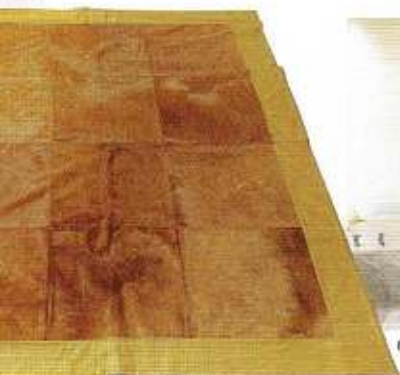

3 To re-create the palette of maison Squire (page 194) buy 'Francesca's Lime Wash' emulsions, such as this 'Water Green III' (£16.67 per litre) and 'The First Rose of Morn' (£23 per litre). Ring 020 7228 7694, or visit francescaspaint.com.

4 Like the patchwork kitchen cupboards at the Squires' Chablis home (page 196)? Piet Hein Eek's range of scrap-wood furniture has a similar look; this classic cupboard costs £3,131 approx. Ring 00 31 40 285 6610, or visit pietheineek.nl.

5 Has our feature on the Goan barber (page 236) made you covet all things Indian? Opium is your one-stop shop. This 1950s collage print of the god Vishnu, the preserver of life, costs £98. Flower garlands are also on sale at £8 per 5ft strip. Ring 020 7795 0700, or visit opiumshop.co.uk.

6 If the soft furnishings at the Marrakesh marvel (page 242) are up your street, Alma Leather is the route to take. It has comparable items such as this 'Hair on Hide' rug (from £1,075) and Milano-suede '35 Bean Cube' (£125). Ring 020 7377 0762, or visit almahome.co.uk. And if you fancy stepping into your own recessed marble bath (page 246), Limestone Gallery can make one for you. Prices start at £9,200. Ring 020 7735 8555, or visit limestonegallery.co.uk ■
