THE ARCHITECTURE ISSUE

ISSUE 150 • SEPT & OCT 2023 £4.99

This flat in South Kensington relies on pattern to make a statement. Geometric motifs are present in the oversized wall art, rug and decorative cushions. Otherwise, the staple furniture pieces are kept neutral. This is a great way to dress your space if you're prone to changing your style. kitesgrove.com

Bold colour was the focus in this Grade II listed property designed by Ana Engelhorn. All the paint for the project is from Francesca's Paints, including this vibrant blue-green (Esmeralda's Green) on the walls and eaves. Jewel tones and hints of gold complete the look. anaengelhorn.com

The architectural features in this space are cleverly highlighted by colour and furniture placement. On the walls is Evie by Edward Bulmer, a bright companion to the traditional corning and elaborately framed art. The seating area and Robert Adam fireplace are hugged by the arch overhead. oakleymoore.com

Setting Plaster, one of Farrow & Ball's most popular pinks, looks particularly invigorating when paired with accents of yellow. Textured throws, a low-slung pendant light in place of a floor lamp, and a sisal rug over painted floorboards make this space feel effortlessly cool. farrow-ball.com
